

Why be bald headed and old looking before your time? Neglect of the hair causes dandruff, and dandruff is the forerunner of falling hair and baldness. The remedy is

Ayer's Hair Vigor

A gentleman residing at Dunedin, N.Z., writes under date Jan. 7, 1907:

"It is with gratitude I write you that I have now a splendid head of hair, both thick and very soft, all owing to my having used your wonderful Hair Vigor. I was almost bald headed before I used the Hair Vigor. I still use it once a day, rubbing it well into the roots of the hair. I used to wear a skull-cap, and I am very grateful to Ayer's Hair Vigor for the improvement it has made in my looks."

Be warned in time. Use Ayer's Hair Vigor and preserve your youth.

upper right-hand corner missing. Mr. Kosack illustrates both copies in his publication, the Berliner Briefmarken Zeitung, and relates, without giving the name of the new owner, that the copy purchased by him has already changed hands.

The only sheet of these stamps that is known to be in existence is in the possession of the Bishop Museum, and is worth many thousands of dollars.

UTILIZE DESERT PRODUCT.

DOUGLAS, Arizona, March 2.—The desert plant known as "Palmilla," is to be exploited. The fiber may be used for ropes, basket and like products, and the sap for glue and soap. It has thus been used by native Indians for many years. The Mexican consul brought the value of the plant to the notice of an American manufacturing company of New York, and representatives of that company are here tonight to arrange for harvesting the plant from the desert. The fiber will go to New York for manufacture. An announcement was made at the chamber of commerce meeting here tonight.

LOUISE LINDSAY DEAD.

Attorney General Lindsay received a wireless yesterday informing him of the death of his thirteen-year-old niece, Louise Lindsay, daughter of his brother, A. B. Lindsay. The girl died on Sunday at Honolulu of typhoid fever. The news came as a great shock to the attorney-general, who did not reach home before that his niece was sick.

A. B. Lindsay, the little girl, was in the States, now on his way back from Chicago.

STOCK SHIPPERS VIOLATING LAW

and whether listed on the manifest or not.

"You are further requested to urge the commanding officer of any vessel of the companies which you represent not to accept for shipment any horse, stock, cattle, sheep or swine unless the same are accompanied by the requisite certificate as specified in the rules of this board.

"Any violation of this rule will necessitate the refusal of a landing permit and the return of the animals to the port whence they came."

Pottie Has Gone.

Doctor Norgaard says in his report: "Ten suspicious cases were found, four of which were taken to the quarantine station and submitted to the mallein testing. One of these animals was found to suffer from typical glanders and was destroyed. The stable where this horse had been kept was submitted to a thorough disinfecting and white washing. It is noteworthy that this animal, as well as the one reported on at the last meeting, have been patients in the stable of Doctor Pottie, but as he has left the Territory for good no action can be taken in the matter."

Notes in Their Eyes.

Doctor Norgaard also says he has discovered a new disease in chickens, which he calls "eyeworm." In regard to this he says: "This disease which seems to be quite prevalent here consists in the presence of worms in the eye between the eyeball and the socket. As many as fifty of these minute worms have been removed from a single eye in spite of which the affected chicken seems to suffer very little inconvenience. The disease has been fully investigated by Doctor Case, who has found that it yields readily to treatment and who is endeavoring to get at the life history of the parasite in question. The subject will be discussed in full in the next annual report."

Dirty Potatoes.

B. N. Newell, entomologist inspector at Hilo, reports to Entomologist Ehrhorn in part as follows: "I am holding my own against the importation of dirty potatoes, if for no other reason than for the consumer's sake. People have to pay a good price for the article and should receive their money's worth. Dirt on potatoes seems to cover a multitude of sins—hiding scab and rot. It is surprising sometimes to see how many potatoes have to be thrown away when it comes to the cleaning process. By ordering this to proceed, at least the consumers buy less rot."

The Foe of the Aphid.

Entomologist Ehrhorn made an interesting report to the board in regard to the liberation on this island of large colonies of aphid eating ladybugs. He says in this regard: "My attempt to secure a large consignment of aphid-eating ladybugs from California was a success, for on February 18 I received a large ventilated box with about 24,400 Hippodamia convergens which were sent to me by Mr. E. K. Carnes, superintendent of the state insectary of the state commission of horticulture of California, and were delivered to me personally by Mr. Geo. Comper, who happened to pass through here on his way to the Orient. The insects were in very good condition and of the large number only about 1500 had died on the way. This ladybug has been introduced here before, but as far as search has been made has never been found. As I understand from those who ought to know the numbers sent were in small lots and I therefore undertook the matter of making a large trial and liberating thousands in one place. I have asked for another sending of same size and hope to get these in as good condition. My idea is to liberate these in the same localities so as to reinforce those already in the field.

"The ladybugs were distributed as follows: Puna, 3000; Waialua, 3000; Kaula, 3000; Waialeale, 3000; and Manoa, 11,000. The liberation of the large quantity in this last place was for the purpose of allowing the flight up this valley to the top of the mountains, should the insects care to follow their California habits. The bad weather and uncertainty of localities on the other islands than Kaula did not permit the distribution to them from this lot. However, should the introduction prove successful, it would be a very easy matter to secure large quantities in the future.

"I have also been successful in introducing the parasite of the cabbage butterfly, Pteromalus puparum, which reduces this pest in California. The damage done to cabbage and other plants in the islands by the cabbage worm is very serious, so much so that many have given up the idea of growing cabbages for market and we import about 1000 crates annually. The pest is also found attacking turnips and everywhere the Nasturtium (Tropaeolum) is badly attacked. If this parasite will do as well here as it does in California, we shall reduce the pest very considerably."

Cruelty to Animals.

Doctor Norgaard in his report calls attention to a peculiar case of cruelty to animals for which, under the law, there seems to be no adequate remedy. He says:

"I have several times of late been consulted by the humane officer as well as by the hack inspector in regard to cases of cruelty to animals, notably among which was a case of a broken leg in a horse which the owner refused to have killed. After consulting the attorney-general as well as several prominent lawyers on the subject, I came to the conclusion that the laws of the Territory on this subject are insufficient to allow of any action to be taken in the matter so long as the owner does not neglect the animal in question."

A REMEDY WHICH NEVER FAILS.

Diseases should be cured without loss of time and by a medicine which like Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy not only cures promptly but produces no unpleasant after effects. It never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists. Hence, Smith & Co., Agents for Hawaii.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Reneau, who has perfected and placed on the local market a practical algaria bean maceator, expects to make a market for the machine on the mainland, particularly in Arizona and possibly in Mexico where the supply of beans is unlimited. He has orders now for machines to be sent to the mainland.

Leffingwell, one of the best-known churchmen of the Episcopal church, owner of the Living Age, and at present a resident of Pasadena, where he has a palatial home, arrived on the Alameda yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Leffingwell. He was met at the wharf by Bishop H. B. Restarick of the Episcopal church, and Mrs. Restarick. The Leffingwells will remain here sometime.

Boston friends of former Queen Liliuokalani of Hawaii, otherwise Mrs. Lydia Dominis, are renewing their former acquaintance, during a brief visit from her. She is stopping at a hotel. There was a time when the presence of royalty, even from the Sandwich Islands, would have made a stir in that republican city. Mrs. Dominis has been visiting San Francisco and Washington, and still hopes that Uncle Sam will do more to save the loss of her sovereignty than has yet been done—Salem (Ore.) Statesman.

BOTH PARTIES PROBABLY NEUTRAL

is believed by the best judges that the native vote can be carried by a very large majority for the temperance side of the question. Though much disgusted with the form of the joint resolution, because it proposes a territorial instead of a federal law, and because it has been amended so as to eliminate saloons to make it mandatory, the anti-saloons will gird up their loins and make a fight that will awaken the Territory.

The woman suffrage end of the matter has been dropped, but the women will be in the campaign. Hawaiian women and white women will hustle for a law to shut off the booze supply, and there is talk of some spectacular features of the canvass. In the southern States in similar campaigns there were processions of women and children with antiboos signs, and the same will be repeated here.

Though the anti-booze league is much dissatisfied with the form of the resolution calling the special election, if the resolution passes, it will make a fight that will give the liquor dealers all they can attend to. With both the regular parties staying out of the game, it appears to be up to the party to organize their own party to oppose the league, and the odds against their being able to do so successfully are heavy.

It is claimed by some that the election as planned will be illegal, but there is no way to bring the matter before any court. The calling of a special election of this sort, it is said, amounts to an amendment of the Organic Act, and the act can not be amended by joint resolution. However, the joint resolution carries an appropriation for the election and the election itself is not planned to have any definite legal effect, hence no one can complain. It is thought that the amendment calling for the mandatory language may have been due to the legal fustians of the politicians.
